1. Lest week on 22 and 23 October the Annual Records Management Conference was held at the attended by 82 Records Officers and personnel directly concerned with the Agency's Records Menagement Program. The theme this year concentrated on microminiaturization and automation in order to focus the attention of the Records Officers on possible systems for the records left after the current purge.

2. Judging from observations of participants and Conferees. talk and movie "Introduction of Automation" was one of the highlights of the program. Although the era of automation is upon us, the why's and how's of automated systems in the field of Records Management is generally unappreciated. in clarifying ADP for the novice and to the resourceful presenting automation as a means -- tangible in nature -- through which records and office procedures may be streamlined and made more efficient. We recognize that the impact of second seffort will not be known for sometime but we were mone-the-less impressed by the positive response he has stimulated initially.
